

2007-2010 Strategic Plan

Programs and facilities managed by the Parks Department help preserve and provide access to many of the region's natural, cultural and historic wonders. More than 50 regional community and special use facilities are available for use while more than 6,000 acres of parks and open space provide outdoor adventures for all ages.

The mission of the department extends beyond providing parks and recreation. Preservation of open space conserves and enhances the County's natural and historical settings for future generations. These include mountains and deserts, lake front property, stream corridors, trails, and wetland preserves. The community along with local, state and federal governments work together to coordinate the regional planning and development of parks, trails and open space.
